Greetings!

We are honored you are holding this brochure in your hands right now and we hope you will find it useful for getting to know more about companies in Czechia in order to start successful business relationships with companies in Kazakhstan.

A business mission accompanying the Deputy Minister of Industry and Trade, Mr. Martin Frélich, and led by the Vice-President of the Czech Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Radek Jakubský, will visit the capital city of Astana in Kazakhstan. The mission will take place on the occasion of the meeting of the Intergovernmental Commission for Economic, Scientific-Industrial, and Technological Cooperation between the Czech Republic and Kazakhstan.

The program includes a business forum followed by B2B meetings, in cooperation with the Embassy of the Czech Republic and Kazakh institutions.

We look forward to meeting you.

Ladies and gentlemen,

It is my great honour to be able to both attend the Czech-Kazakh Business Forum in Astana and to present the Czech companies that are attending this event. First, allow me to express my sincere thanks to all those taking part in this important occasion, which accompanies the meeting of the Intergovernmental Commission for Economic Cooperation between the Czech Republic and the Republic of Kazakhstan and marks a significant step towards deepening our economic ties.

This forum offers a valuable platform for strengthening our bilateral economic relations. Kazakhstan is a key partner for the Czech Republic in Central Asia, and we see great potential for expanding our cooperation across a range of sectors. I am glad, that I can confidently say that stable and prosperous relations with Kazakhstan are a priority not only for us, but also the whole of EU resulting in a number of opportunities for both our business sectors.

The Czech business delegation brings together companies representing both tradition and innovation – from engineering, transportation, energy and healthcare to research and development. Their shared goal is to establish new partnerships, explore business opportunities, and contribute to the sustainable development of our economies.

This mission reflects our strong commitment to supporting Czech exporters in accessing the Kazakh market. I sincerely hope that the forum will be fruitful for all participants and lead to lasting, mutually beneficial cooperation.

Martin Frélich

Deputy Minister of Industry and Trade of the Czech Republic

Ladies and gentlemen,

Let me please address you on behalf of the Czech Chamber of Commerce as the leader of our business mission to Kazakhstan. This mission is accompanying the Deputy Minister of Industry and Trade of the Czech Republic, Mr. Martin Frélich, and focuses on companies in the fields of energetics, engineering, transportation, ICT (including cyber) and healthcare.

Our delegation consists of companies already involved in ongoing projects in these sectors and companies looking for new business and investment opportunities. This visit represents a unique opportunity for Czech companies to expand their global presence and explore new opportunities for cooperation.

The Czech Republic and Kazakhstan share a long history of cooperation, rooted in mutual respect and a deep appreciation for cultural exchange. Since the establishment of diplomatic relations between our countries in 1992, the ties between the Czech Republic and Kazakhstan have steadily grown, and today, our two nations share not only a strong cultural connection but also a growing trade and business partnership. We believe that collaboration between our nations offers tremendous potential, and the Czech companies represented here are committed to building lasting, sustainable relationships. Together, we can achieve shared success and contribute to the prosperity of both our countries.

I am confident that this will be a successful and productive journey for all involved, and I am also very pleased that the Chamber of Commerce of the Czech Republic can assist you in finding new partnerships and joint projects.

Radek Jakubský

Vice President of the Czech Chamber of Commerce
